

ANALYSIS THE USE OF LEARNING MEDIA BY PRIMARY SCHOOL TEACHERS

(Literature Study)

By

MERIANI NURJANAH

165060172

ABSTRACT

This study aims to determine the use of instructional media used by elementary school teachers during the learning process. The research used a qualitative approach, with the type of research that is library research. Literature study is a type of research by collecting in-depth data and information relating to the object of research as the main characteristic. The data obtained comes from books, journals, papers, newspapers, magazines, the internet, and so on. The results of this study are the use of instructional media by the teacher is very important to be applied during the learning process because it will make it easier for the teacher to convey teaching material to students and students will find it easier to understand the material the teacher is conveying to him. Learning media certainly carry the role of a teacher to be more innovative and productive in delivering teaching materials to students. The role of the teacher in developing instructional media is to always learn and deepen the development of existing learning media in accordance with the times. The learning media used can increase the enthusiasm and enthusiasm of students in learning.

Keywords: Learning Media and Teacher Role.